2024 IC Bus University

"Maintaining momentum in technical education is key to the success of our long-term strategy and continued support of our customers - school bus technicians! Each year, with the feedback from our attendees, our aim is to grow, improve, and expand our summer IC Bus University training program." Michael Goodman, RSM IC Bus Service, North America

We are excited to announce IC Bus University 2024!

This year's program will continue with a series of five one-week summer training sessions conducted at the IC Bus Tulsa Bus Plant. Each session brings together school bus technicians from across North America to focus on core topics of learning that were inspired by listening to customers. In addition to receiving formal training on how to service a variety of engines, transmissions, and other bus components, trainees can network with other service technicians from across the country to share best practices.

Please Note: We are offering two successful training programs again this year! IC Bus University I for new enrollees and IC Bus University II for those who have attended previously in person (2017-2023).
